Personal data we gather may include: individuals' name, address, phone number, email address, educational background, financial and pay details, details of certificates and diplomas, education and skills, protected characteristics, held or going to be held on computer;

- in, or going to be in, a manual filing system that is highly structured so that information about you can be easily retrieved;
- in most health, educational, social service or housing records; or
- other information held by a public authority.

Special categories of personal data Special categories of data include information about an individual's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or similar beliefs, trade union membership (or non-membership), physical or mental health or condition, criminal offences, or related proceedings, and genetic and biometric information —any use of special categories of personal data should be strictly controlled in accordance with this policy.

Data controller 'Data controller' means the natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data; where the purposes and means of such processing are determined by law.

Data processor 'Processor' means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which processes personal data on behalf of the controller.

Processing 'Processing' means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.

3. SCOPE

3.1 This policy applies to all stakeholders, who must be familiar with this policy and comply with its terms.

3.2 This policy supplements our other policies relating to internet and email use for both staff and students. We may supplement or amend this policy by additional policies and guidelines from time to time. Any new or modified policy will be circulated to staff before being adopted.

3.3 Who is responsible for this policy?

Blackburn College as a corporate body is the data controller under the Act. However, the designated Data Protection Officer (DPO) will deal with day to day matters. Blackburn

College's designated Data Protection Officer is Jennifer Eastham, Vice Principal: Finance and Corporate Services, 01254 292331

4. THE PRINCIPLES

4.1 Blackburn College and all stakeholders shall comply with the principles of data protection (the Principles) enumerated in the UK General Data Protection Regulation. We will make every effort possible in everything we do to comply with these principles.

4.2 The Principles are:

1. Lawful, fair and transparent

Data collection must be fair, for a legal purpose and we will be open and transparent as to how the data will be used.

2. Limited for its purpose

Data will only be collected for a specific purpose.

3. Data minimisation

Any data collected will be necessary and not excessive for its purpose.

4. Accurate

The data we hold will be accurate and kept up to date.

5. Retention

We will not store data longer than necessary.

6. Integrity and confidentiality

The data we hold will be kept safe and secure.

4.3 Accountability and transparency

4.3.1 We will ensure accountability and transparency in all our use of personal data. We will show how we comply with each Principle. All applicable managers are responsible for keeping a written record of how all the data processing activities they are responsible for, comply with each of the Principles. This must be kept up to date and must be approved by the DPO.

4.3.2 To comply with data protection laws and the accountability and transparency Principle of GDPR, we will demonstrate compliance.

4.3.3 Managers are responsible for understanding their particular responsibilities to ensure we meet the following data protection obligations:

- Fully implement all appropriate technical and organisational measures.
- Maintain up to date and relevant documentation on all processing activities.
- Conducting Data Protection Impact Assessments.
- Implement measures to ensure privacy by design and default, including:
 - Data minimisation
 - Pseudonymisation
 - Transparency
 - Allowing individuals to monitor processing

- Creating and improving security and enhanced privacy procedures on an ongoing basis

5. OUR PROCEDURES

5.1 Fair and lawful processing

5.1.1 We will process personal data fairly and lawfully in accordance with individuals' rights under the first Principle. This generally means that we should not process personal data unless the individual whose details we are processing has consented to this happening.

5.1.2 If we cannot apply a lawful basis (explained below), our processing does not conform to the first principle and will be unlawful. Data subjects have the right to have any data unlawfully processed erased. Consent to process individual's information will be taken at the point of application, and enrolment, for students, and at the point of signing a contractual agreement for staff and others.

5.2 Controlling vs. processing data

5.2.1 Blackburn College is classified as a corporate body and is the data controller under the act. We will maintain our appropriate registration with the Information Commissioners Office in order to continue lawfully controlling and processing data.

5.3 Lawful basis for processing data

5.3.1 We will establish a lawful basis for processing data. Managers must ensure that any data they are responsible for managing has a written lawful basis approved by the DPO. It is the responsibility of each appropriate manager to check the lawful basis for any data they are working with and ensure all actions comply with the lawful basis. At least one of the following conditions must apply whenever we process personal data:

1. Consent

We hold recent, clear, explicit, and defined consent for the individual's data to be processed for a specific purpose.

2. Contract

The processing is necessary to fulfil or prepare a contract for the individual.

3. Legal obligation

We have a legal obligation to process the data (excluding a contract).

4. Vital interests

Processing the data is necessary to protect a person's life or in a medical situation.

5. Public function

Processing necessary to carry out a public function, a task of public interest or the function has a clear basis in law.

6. Legitimate interest

The processing is necessary for our legitimate interests. This condition does not apply if there is a good reason to protect the individual's personal data which overrides the legitimate interest.

6. SPECIAL CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL DATA

6.1 Previously known as sensitive personal data, this means data about an individual which is more sensitive, so requires more protection. This type of data could create more significant risks to a person's fundamental rights and freedoms, for example by putting them at risk of unlawful discrimination. The special categories include information about an individual's:

- Race or ethnic origin
- political opinions
- religion or philosophical beliefs
- trade union membership
- genetics
- biometrics (where used for ID purposes)
- health
- sexual orientation
- sex life

6.2 In most cases where we process special categories of personal data we will require the data subject's explicit consent to do this unless exceptional circumstances apply or we are required to do this by law (e.g. to comply with legal obligations to ensure health and safety at work). Any such consent will need to clearly identify what the relevant data is, why it is being processed and to whom it will be disclosed.

6.3 The condition for processing special categories of personal data must comply with the law. If we do not have a lawful basis for processing special categories of data that processing activity must cease.

7. RESPONSIBILITIES

8. ACCURACY AND RELEVANCE

- 8.1 We will ensure that any personal data we process is accurate, adequate, relevant and not excessive, given the purpose for which it was obtained. We will not process personal data obtained for one purpose for any unconnected purpose unless the individual concerned has agreed to this or would otherwise reasonably expect this.

8.2 Individuals may ask that we correct inaccurate personal data relating to them. If you believe that information is inaccurate you should record the fact that the accuracy of the information is disputed and inform the DPO.

9. DATA SECURITY

9.1 Storing data securely:

- Data should be protected by strong passwords that are changed regularly and never shared between anyone else.
- Personal data should not be disclosed to unauthorised individuals, either within the College or externally.
- Staff should ensure their account is locked at all times when left unattended.
- Personal data should not be shared informally. In particular, it should never be sent by email unless the data is encrypted, as this form of communication is not secure.
- Data must be encrypted at all times before being transferred electronically.
- Staff should not save copies of personal data to their own computers, always access and update the central data.
- Do not store data on removable media, such as USB and DVD drives.
- Data should never be saved directly onto Laptops or any other mobile devices such as Tablets or Smart phones.
- Staff should make sure paper and printouts with personal data are not left unattended where unauthorised access is available.
- Printouts with personal data should be shredded and disposed of securely when no longer required.

10. DATA RETENTION

10.1 We will retain personal data for no longer than is necessary. What is necessary will depend on the circumstances of each case, taking into account the reasons that the personal data was obtained, but will be determined in a manner consistent with our data retention guidelines. This is covered further in the Retention of Personal Data Policy.

11. TRANSFERRING DATA

11.1 As mentioned above, the College collects a wide range of personal data relating to staff and students for its own purposes, and to meet external obligations. This may result in the eventual transfer of personal data to an outside third party, however any such transfers must be permitted under the Act. Personal data must not be disclosed to unauthorised third parties including another individual or organisation, family members, friends, local authorities, government bodies, and the police where the individual has not consented to the transfer unless disclosure is exempted by the Act, or by other legislation. There is no general legal requirement to disclose information to the police.

11.2 A Data Sharing Agreement (DSA) should be signed by both parties stating the reasons for the transfer. This should be logged on the master list held by Computer Services.

11.3 However data can sometimes be disclosed without consent, where, for example, it is required for:

- protecting the vital interests of the data subject (i.e. release of medical data in emergency)
- the prevention or detection of crime

11.4 Transferring information to a third party (with the data subject's consent)

11.4.1 Personal Data can be transferred to another third party if the data subject has given their consent. This must always be in writing. Consent cannot be inferred from silence, so if the College requests consent so that personal data can be provided to a third party, and no response is received, the College must infer that consent is withheld.

11.4.2 Data may be shared for example with an external payroll company or the HMRC in regard to staff and with the relevant funding agencies, internal and external verifiers and internal and external auditors (please note that this list is not exhaustive).

11.5 Disclosure of information to a sponsor or prospective employers:

11.5.1 Often a third party, or prospective employer, may contact the College to verify details about a student, such as attendance records and examination results. In most circumstances, students would not object to the disclosure of such information, and indeed it may benefit the student. However, the request for information should be accompanied by a statement from the student consenting to the disclosure, or the student should be contacted to confirm their consent.

11.6 Providing information because it is required by law:

11.6.1 The College will disclose information in accordance with any legislation which it is subject to.

11.76 Transferring data securely

11.7.1 Every effort should be made to ensure that any data being transferred, regardless of whether electronic or otherwise, remains secure. Once authorisation has been given to transfer data externally, then Computer Services will provide the most appropriate secure method of transfer. (In some cases the external organisation will stipulate that the data is transferred using their systems and therefore specific instructions will be provided). The originating member of staff should confirm safe receipt of the information from the recipient and highlight any potential losses to the Data Protection Officer immediately.

12. RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS

12.1 Individuals have rights to their data which we will respect and comply with to the best of our ability. We will ensure individuals can exercise their rights in the following ways:

- We must provide individuals with their data so that they can reuse it for their own purposes or across different services.
- We must provide it in a commonly used, machine-readable format, and send it directly to another controller if requested.

Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling

- We must respect the rights of individuals in relation to automated decision making and profiling.
- Individuals retain their right to object to such automated processing, have the rationale explained to them, and request manual intervention.

13. MAKING AN ENQUIRY

- 13.1 To obtain a copy of information held about you, to which the Data Protection Act/GDPR applies, you must detail in writing your request to the College Data Protection Officer (DPO). The College will comply with the request within the statutory timescale unless there is good reason for the delay. In such cases, the reason will be explained in writing to the person request. All requests will be processed free of charge. However, the College is able to charge a "reasonable fee" for further copies of the same information and when a request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, particularly if it is repetitive. The fee will be based on the administrative cost of providing the information.

13.2 Further information on making a Subject Access Request is provided in the Subject Access Request (SAR) Procedure – add link.

14. DATA PORTABILITY REQUESTS

14.1 We must provide the data requested in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. This would normally be a CSV file, although other formats are acceptable. We must provide this data either to the individual who has requested it, or to the data controller they have requested it be sent to. This must be done free of charge and without delay, and no later than one month. This can be extended to two months for complex or numerous requests, but you will be informed of the extension within one month.

15. RIGHT TO ERASURE

15.1 What is the right to erasure?

Individuals have a right to have their data erased and for processing to cease in the following circumstances:

- Where the personal data is no longer necessary in relation to the purpose for which it was originally collected and / or processed;
- Where consent is withdrawn;
- Where the individual objects to processing and there is no overriding legitimate interest for continuing the processing;
- The personal data was unlawfully processed or otherwise breached data protection laws
- To comply with a legal obligation;
- The processing relates to a child (aged under 13).

15.2 How we deal with the right to erasure:

We will consider each request for erasure on a case by case basis, we will only refuse to comply with a right to erasure in the following circumstances:

- To exercise the right of freedom of expression and information;
- To comply with a legal obligation for the performance of a public interest task or exercise of official authority, including compliance with funding regulations;
- The exercise or defence of legal claims.

All rights for erasure should be submitted to the DPO for consideration. Requests from individuals who have accessed government funding will be referred to the College's Retention of Personal Data Policy for information in relation to data retention required by government bodies.

16. THE RIGHT TO OBJECT

16.1 Individuals have the right to object to their data being used on grounds relating to their particular situation. We will cease processing unless:

- We have legitimate grounds for processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the individual.
- The processing relates to the establishment, exercise, defence of legal claims or funding regulations.
- We will always inform the individual of their right to object at the first point of communication, i.e. in the privacy notice. Any objections should be submitted to the DPO.

16.2 The right to restrict automated profiling or decision making:

We may only carry out automated profiling or decision making that has a legal or similarly significant effect on an individual in the following circumstances:

- It is necessary for the entry into or performance of a contract.
- Based on the individual's explicit consent.
- Otherwise authorised by law.

In these circumstances, we will:

- Give individuals detailed information about the automated processing.
- Offer simple ways for them to request human intervention or challenge any decision about them.
- Carry out regular checks and user testing to ensure our systems are working as intended.

All rights to object should be submitted to the DPO for consideration.

17. THIRD PARTIES

17.1 Using third party controllers and processors

17.1.1 As a data controller we will have written contracts in place with any third party data controllers and/or data processors that we use. The contracts will contain specific clauses which set out our, and their liabilities, obligations and responsibilities.

17.1.2 As a data controller, we will only appoint processors who can provide sufficient guarantees under GDPR and that the rights of data subjects will be respected and protected.

17.1.3 As a data processor, we must only act on the documented instructions of a controller. We acknowledge our responsibilities as a data processor under GDPR and we will protect and respect the rights of data subjects.

17.1.4 The College maintains a full list of third party companies, it is the responsibility of each relevant manager to ensure this document is kept up to date and is relevant.

17.2 Contracts

17.2.1 Our contracts must comply with the standards set out by the Information Commissioner's Officer (ICO) and, where possible, follow the standard contractual clauses which are available. Our contracts with data controllers (and/or) data processors must set out the subject matter and duration of the processing, the nature and stated purpose of the processing activities, the types of personal data and categories of data subject, and the obligations and rights of the controller.

- Nothing will be done by either the controller or processor to infringe on GDPR.

18. AUDITS, MONITORING AND TRAINING

18.1 Data Audits

18.1.1 Regular data audits to manage and mitigate risks will inform the data register. This contains information on what data is held, where it is stored, how it is used, who is responsible and any further regulations or retention timescales that may be relevant.

18.2 Monitoring

18.2.1 All stakeholders must observe this policy. The DPO has overall responsibility for this policy. The College will keep this policy under review and amend or change it as required. You must notify the DPO of any breaches of this policy. You must comply with this policy fully and at all times.

20. FAILURE TO COMPLY

- 20.1 We take compliance with this policy very seriously. Failure to comply puts both staff and students, and the College at risk.

APPENDIX 1 TO THE DATA PROTECTION/GDPR POLICY

Staff Guidelines for Data Protection

1. All staff will process data about students on a regular basis, when marking registers, or on College work, writing reports or references, or as part of a pastoral or academic supervisory role. The College will ensure through its enrolment procedures, that all students give their consent to this sort of processing, and are notified of the categories of processing, as required by the UK Data Protection Act 2018 (UKDPA) and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UKGDPR). The information that staff deal with on a day to day basis will be 'standard' and will cover categories such as:
 - general personal details such as name and address
 - details about class attendance, coursework marks and grades and associated comments
 - notes of personal supervision, including matters about behaviour and discipline.
2. Information about a student's physical or mental health; sexual activities; political or religious views; trade union membership or ethnicity or race is sensitive and can only be collected and processed with the student's consent. Consent is obtained on the processing of ethnicity, faith and learning difficulty and/or disability data at enrolment. However, if staff need to record any other information, they should seek the student's written consent, for example, recording information about dietary needs, or health reasons prior to taking students on a trip or visit; recording information that a student is pregnant.
3. Should a member of teaching staff consider it necessary to collect sensitive data or be asked to process this data, they should refer to their Head of School in the first instance.
4. The only exception to this will be if the staff member is satisfied that the processing of the data is necessary and:
 - in the best interests of the student or staff member, or a third person or Blackburn College
 - he or she has either informed the authorised person of this, or has been unable to do so and processing is urgent and necessary in all the circumstances.

This should only happen in very limited circumstances. e.g. a student is injured and unconscious, but in need of medical attention, and a staff tutor tells the hospital that the student is pregnant.
5. The relevant Head of School will be responsible for ensuring that all data is kept securely.
6. Staff must not disclose personal data to any student, unless for normal academic or pastoral purposes, without authorisation or agreement from the Data Protection Officer, or in line with the College Policy.
7. Staff shall not disclose personal data to any other staff member except with the authorisation or agreement of the Data Protection Officer, or in line with the College Policy.
8. Before processing any personal data, all staff should consider the checklist.

Deciding which data protection condition to rely on:

If College are making an assessment of the lawful basis, we will first establish that the processing is necessary. This means the processing will be a targeted, appropriate way of achieving the stated purpose. We will not rely on a lawful basis if we can reasonably achieve the same purpose by some other means. Remember that more than one basis may apply, and staff should rely on what will best fit the purpose, not what is easiest.

Our commitment to the first Principle requires us to document this process and show that we have considered which lawful basis best applies to each processing purpose, and fully justify these decisions.

We must also ensure that individuals whose data is being processed by College are informed of the lawful basis for processing their data, as well as the intended purpose. This should occur via a privacy notice. This applies whether we have collected the data directly from the individual, or from another source.

If staff are responsible for making an assessment of the lawful basis and implementing the privacy notice for the processing activity, you must have this approved by the DPO.
